

Survey: Influence future occupational therapy research

Opportunity category Blue

Deadline: 5 November 2019

We would appreciate knowing if you circulate this advert to any third sector organisations or charities as this will help us with promoting public involvement.

Who can get involved?

Individuals who have:

- experience of using occupational therapy either personally or care for someone who has

You do not need to be registered with the involvement community to be involved in this opportunity but members of the public who have not registered are invited to submit a registration form to become part of the involvement community to access support and further involvement opportunities.

Location

Online survey

Opportunity category:

Blue

Deadline date:

5 November 2019

Location:

Online survey

Host Institution:

Royal College of Occupational Therapy (RCOT)

What is required?

Royal College of Occupational Therapy (RCOT) wants to hear your thoughts and questions about occupational therapy. Your ideas will influence future research in occupational therapy so that it focuses on what matters most to those accessing and practicing occupational therapy.

Everyone can submit their ideas as part of the nationwide consultation via a quick on-line survey on their website.

The survey closes on 5th November.

An easy read version of the survey and supporting information including flyers and guidelines for people facilitating guided discussions are available on their website.

You can also submit your ideas over the phone and find out more by calling Ruth on 0203 141 4695 or you can email Ruth via ruth.unstead-joss@rcot.co.uk

What reward is offered for taking part?

There is no financial reward offered for taking part in this opportunity.

If you are or choose to become a registered member of the community you will have access to the Health and Care Research Wales training programme and support from the public involvement and engagement team.